

Atlanta Cutlery Corp. and Museum Replicas Ltd. Acquire License for Assassin's Creed I and II from Ubisoft Games

Atlanta Cutlery Corp. and Museum Replicas Ltd. named prop and clothing collectibles licensee for the Ubisoft Games Assassin's Creed I and II throughout North America and Europe.

Conyers, GA (PRWEB) October 14, 2009 -- Atlanta Cutlery Corp. \(ACC\) & Museum Replicas Ltd. \(MRL\) announced today that they have entered into a multi-year license agreement with Ubisoft for prop and high-end costume collectibles throughout North America and Europe. The agreement covers multiple characters from both the previously released Assassin's Creed and the upcoming Assassin's Creed II.

The company will develop a range of prop collectibles and specialty products including high-end clothing/costumes, weapons, and other props all inspired by the characters and themes from the Ubisoft games. Assassin's Creed products have started to ship now and products from the sequel are set to roll out the beginning of Q2 2010.

Each prop has been meticulously researched with Ubisoft personnel for absolute realism and authenticity. Characters include Altair and Ezio. As gaming audiences have become more sophisticated in their playing tastes, so have the collectors of these higher end collectibles. People are beginning to realize that these pieces are not only purchased for their ever-increasing intrinsic value, but for their aesthetic beauty as well.

Assassin's Creed I & II props and clothing can be viewed online at www.museumreplicas.com or on their sister site www.atlantacutlery.com and in person at the Museum Replicas showroom store located at 2147 Gees Mill Road, Conyers, GA 30013. In addition, the complete line will be available to view at the MRL exhibitor booths at San Diego Comic-Con & Atlanta DragonCon 2010.
